James Baldwin

“And if the eyes of those men had had the power to pulverize that car, it would have been done...”

“I had never in all my life seen such a concentrated, malevolent poverty of spirit.”

“I had not known that when one’s shoelaces and belt have been removed one is, in the strangest way, demoralized.”

“And who has not dreamed of violence?”

Joseph Conrad as quoted by James Baldwin

“Why don’t you take me in your arms and carry me out of this lonely place?”

William Shakespeare as quoted by James Baldwin

“How with this rage shall beauty hold a plea,

Whose action is no stronger than a flower?”
